

He is Risen Skit

Peter: It's been three days. Three days! I can't believe Jesus is gone. He was my teacher and my guide. He lived a perfect life and now he's gone. I know he's the Messiah, I truly believed it but I am heartbroken about his death on the cross. Why would God let his own son die?

(Mary rushes in)

Mary: Peter! Peter! I've just come from the tomb. I was going to use spices to put on his body, but when I got there something so strange happened. The stone, the huge stone placed in front of the tomb. It was rolled away.

Peter: What? Who would do this? Who took Jesus' body?

Mary: Listen, there is more. I was sure thieves had taken his body, but then this light appeared. It was so bright, the other ladies and I were terrified. Two men were clothed in the brightest clothing I've ever seen and they asked us why we were looking for Jesus among the dead? They said He's not here for a reason. He is Risen!

Peter: Risen!?

Mary: No one took Jesus' body because he's not dead. Jesus is alive!

Peter: Jesus...he's alive?

Mary: Yes, the angels told me to remember what Jesus told us. That he had to be delivered into the hands of sinful men and be crucified....

Peter: (remembering)...and he would rise on the third day! Jesus is alive! He IS the Messiah. He has come to rescue us from our sins and so we could be with God forever. Thank you God! I must go to the tomb to see for myself! Jesus is alive!

(Peter exits)

Mary: Go, go tell the good news! (passing out eggs) Jesus is Alive!
